

Questions:

1. Were there any changes in the observations your buoy collected? What were they?

2. What do you think could cause changes in the buoy data?

3. How can it be useful to keep track of this data over time?

4. Besides the measurements collected already, what are some other things that a buoy could record?
